

160 STEM majors

260 Minnesota colleges and universities

40 STEM career descriptions

videos

quizzes

industry descriptions

18,000 Minnesota job openings

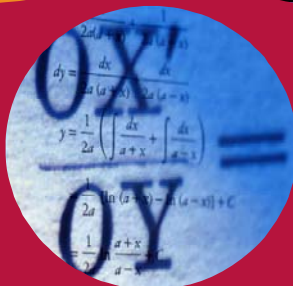

skill and interest assessments

reality check tool

green careers

220,000 Minnesota employer contacts

hot jobs by region

Exploring STEM Careers

Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics

Don't think you're a science, technology, or math person? Think again! You use these skills every day. Music, videos, gaming, sports, buildings, cars – and yes, spaceships too – all use STEM. STEM skills help you prepare for whatever your future holds. Even if you're not planning to be a scientist or engineer, you can apply STEM knowledge to a wide variety of careers.

Explore STEM on www.iseek.org:

- Learn about the STEM career cluster
- Explore STEM career profiles
- Watch career videos
- Find local wages for STEM careers
- Assess your skills
- Find STEM majors and courses
- Locate in-demand STEM careers
- Read about STEM skills

STEM Classes

The high school and college classes below help you learn more about STEM.

- Algebra
- Biology
- Calculus
- Chemistry
- Computer Technology
- Computer-Assisted Art
- Economics
- Electronics
- Environmental Science
- Geography
- Physics
- Political Science
- Research Methods
- Statistics
- Technical Writing
- Trigonometry

STEM Resources

Learn more about STEM with one of these resources:

STEM: Making Good Minds Great

Learn how STEM is more than just math equations, lab reports, and spreadsheets. This Minnesota website will show you how STEM subjects will prepare you for an exciting career.

www.mn-stem.com

InDemand Magazine: Careers in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics

This national online publication shows how math and science skills are important to many career paths in high-growth industries.

www.careervoyages.gov/indemandmagazine-stem.cfm

O*NET's STEM Occupations

View the full list of STEM occupations on this national website. Select a job title to learn more.

<http://online.onetcenter.org/find/stem>

The Fun Works

Learn about careers you never knew existed. This website includes career profiles, a quiz, and online games to start thinking about the future.

www.thefunworks.org

What Do You Like?

Learn how your interests and favorite school subjects match careers. This website can help you make informed decisions about careers, education, and training.

www.thefunworks.org